

This Cookie policy applies in addition to our privacy policy that includes how we collect and share data which can be found here.

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files containing small amounts of information which are sent to your browser and stored on your computer, mobile phone or other device when you visit a website. The cookies send information back to the website each time you return.

Spil Games uses cookies for purposes such as improving the functionality of our websites, letting you navigate between pages efficiently, remembering your preferences, making ads you see more relevant and generally improving the user experience.

It helps Spil Games to remember information about your visit, like your preferred language and other settings.

It's important to know that using cookies is safe. Accepting a cookie does not give a server access to your computer or any of your personal information. It is also not possible to use a cookie to deliver a virus.

You can learn more about cookies and their functions by visiting an information website like allaboutcookies.org.

Statistics/ Performance cookies

Spil Games uses those cookies to gather information about the way visitors use our website. These statistics provide us with insight into how often our webpages are visited, where on our website our visitors spend the most time, how often they interact with a page or part of a page, This allows us to make the structure, navigation, and content of our website as user-friendly as possible.

Spil Games is able to keep track if you experience any errors and determine which parts of our website (or pages) need to be adjusted.

Advertising cookies

These cookies are used to help measure the delivery and the performance of advertising campaigns and limit the number of times you see an advert.

Third-party targeted advertising cookies may be placed on your device by third-party advertisers, ad networks, data exchanges, marketing analytics and other service providers.

Third-party targeted advertising cookies collect information about your browsing activity across multiple websites and online services in order to provide you with relevant advertisements on our websites and online services. Ad networks may share this information with the advertisers using their network. The information collected using these third-party advertising cookies does not identify you personally.

They are used for statistical analysis by allowing the advertiser to count how many people have seen their advertisement or have seen it more than once. They might also allow the advertiser to tailor advertising to you when you visit other websites. You should make sure you are aware of how third parties will use cookies by checking the third party's cookie policy. Below you can find list of Spil Games' partners that might be dropping cookies.

Social Media

Spil Games uses those cookies to share the content of our website via social media.

You can share some games and videos you view on our website via social media. To enable this functionality, we use social media cookies provided by various social media platforms so that the social media platform you wish to use will recognize you when you want to share something with your friends.

Registered users

Spil Games analyses online activities of registered guests across our websites by use of cookies and other tracking technologies. Where you have opted in to receive communications from us, we may use cookies and other tracking technologies to tailor future communication with you.

Other/unforeseen cookies

Considering the way the Internet and websites work, we do not always have insight into the cookies that are being placed by third parties through our website.

Therefore, should you come across any cookies on this website that we have not listed above, please contact us at cookies@spilgames.com

Types of cookies

Session cookies

A session cookie is temporarily stored in your computer's memory while you are surfing on a site, for example to keep a track of which language you have chosen. Session cookies are not stored on your computer for a long period of time, but always disappear when you shut down your web browser.

Persistent or tracker cookies

A persistent cookie saves a file on your computer for a long time; this kind of cookie has an expiry date. Persistent cookies help websites remember your information and settings when you visit them in the future. This result in faster and more convenient access since, for example, you don't have to login again.

When the expiry date has passed, the cookie is automatically deleted when you return to the website that created it.

First party cookies

These are set by the website itself and can only be read by that site. These cookies are commonly used to store information such as your preferences, for use when you re-visit the site.

Third party cookies

These are set by different domains from the one shown on the browser address bar that is by an organization other than the website owner.

Third party advertising and analytics cookies are placed by or on behalf of independent advertisers who are advertising on our site. These cookies may be placed within the advertisement and elsewhere on our site. They are anonymous – they cannot identify individuals. Spil Games has no access to third party cookies and third party organizations have no access to ours. The third party organizations that place cookies have their own strict privacy policies that apply to those cookies.

Flash cookies

A Flash cookie, also known as a local shared object, is a text file that is sent by a Web server to a client when the browser requests content supported by Adobe Flash, a popular browser plug-in.

Flash cookies are commonly used in website advertisements and videos.

Spil Games may use Flash cookies, to store your preferences or display content based upon what you view on our site to personalize your visit. Our advertisers and third-party service providers also may use Flash cookies to collect and store information. Flash cookies are different from browser cookies because of the amount of, type of, and how data is stored.

Disabling/enabling cookies via your browser

There are a number of ways for you to manage cookies and other tracking technologies. Through your browser settings, you can accept or decline cookies or set your browser to prompt you before accepting a cookie from the websites you visit. You should be aware that you will not be able to use all our interactive features if you set your browser to disable cookies entirely.

You can delete any cookies that have been installed in the cookie folder of your browser. The various browsers provide different procedures to manage your settings. Click on any of the browser links below for instructions.
